

International Alliance of ALS/MND Associations

HUMANITARIAN AWARD - 2010

Call for Nominations

Nominations for the International Alliance of ALS/MND Associations' Humanitarian Award are now open. This Award was inaugurated by the International Alliance of ALS/MND Associations in 2000 to recognize non-scientific contribution to the fight against ALS/MND. Previous winners of the Award were:

2000	MND Association of England, Wales & N Ireland	2006	Mrs Misao Hashimoto
2001	Yuko Matsuoka	2007	Tricia Holmes
2002	Dee Holden Norris	2008	Rodney Harris
2003	Dr David Oliver	2009	Professor Kathy Mitchell
2004	Not awarded
2005	Motor Neurone Disease Association of South Africa

The Award is to recognize and encourage individuals from a non-scientific background whose work makes, or has made, a contribution of international significance for people affected by ALS/MND. Nominations for the Award are considered annually, but the Award is made at the discretion of the International Alliance of ALS/MND Associations.

The purpose of the Award is to:

- Recognize, within the world community of ALS/MND, work undertaken by individuals to enhance the quality of life of people living with ALS/MND;
- Encourage others to think more broadly about their work, its wider international application and to facilitate wider application and innovation, and
- Recognize outstanding effort.

More specifically the recipient of this Award will have:

- a) Initiated and implemented work that has had an international impact on people living with ALS/MND;
- b) Worked actively to demonstrate the benefits of the work to the world community of ALS/MND;
- c) Presented the work in a structure of format to facilitate international application;
- d) Created the opportunity for implementation of the work internationally, and
- e) Adopted an internationalist approach to their endeavours to fight ALS/MND.

The Award will consist of an inscribed crystal bowl and framed citation of the awardee's work and an award of $US750 to be given to the award recipient to be used specifically for an ALS/MND patient service program, anywhere in the world that the recipient chooses*. The Award is sponsored by Communication Independence of the Neurologically Impaired, Inc (CINI), a member of the International Alliance

The judging panel will consist of five members of the International Alliance of ALS/MND Associations.

* Designation of the specific ALS/MND program must be made within six months of receiving the Award.

The closing date for nominations is 19 September 2010.

Nominations can be made by any individual or organization and MUST be accompanied by:

- A brief résumé of the nominee's career and achievements
- A draft citation of less than 200 words
- Completed Nomination Form
